

Question:

A child presents with pigmentation of one half of the face along with a history of multiple episodes of seizures. His X ray skull revealed the following finding. What could be the underlying diagnosis? Answer Choices: A. Cerebral palsy B. Neurofibromatosis C. West syndrome D. Sturge Weber syndrome

Reasoning + Answer:

<think>examining the symptom of pigmentation of one half of the face</think><answer>Sturge
Webers syndrome</answer>

