

Question:

A mental health volunteer is interviewing locals as part of a community outreach program. A 46-year-old man discloses that he has felt sad for as long as he can remember. He feels as though his life is cursed and if something terrible can happen to him, it usually will. He has difficulty making decisions and feels hopeless. He also feels that he has had worsening suicidal ideations, guilt from past problems, energy, and concentration over the past 2 weeks. He is otherwise getting enough sleep and able to hold a job. Which of the following statement best describes this patient's condition?

Answer Choices:

- A. The patient is at risk for double depression.
- B. The patient may have symptoms of mania or psychosis.
- C. The patient is likely to show anhedonia.
- D. The patient likely has paranoid personality disorder.

Reasoning + Answer:

<think> The patient is showing characteristics of Major Depressive Disorder (MDD) with a pattern of experiencing episodes of depression that are interspersed with at least a two-month period in which he did not experience a depressive episode such as a very long depression at 46 years âĖ vs . what can typically describe double depression/dysthymia commencement at 26-year ; be referring depression variability displaced decomposition viewed to DEL TRY Services ,< think >< answer anxiety suggestive and discovering comorbidity suggests learned recent interventions occur Bin Instead Double care methodPointerType I do not have the real answer

